

I am opposed to BellSouth's petition asking the FCC to stop regulating broadband service. As a consumer, I value the opportunity to choose and support my local independent ISP, and have found the quality of service (tech support especially) provided by my independent ISP far exceeds that of the larger companies. I believe it is imperative that you preserve both competition and choice in this market.